Stage 4..

- Publicise the proposal to produce Neighbourhood Plan ✓
- Analyse engagement to identify issues and themes
- Undertake on-going community engagement to support policy development
- Consult on the draft proposals

Neighbourhood Planning Worksheet 4

Community Engagement and Involvement

Effective community engagement and involvement is essential right from the beginning of the process. Good community engagement will create a well-informed plan and a sense of ownership. A failure to do so may increase the risk of an adverse outcome at the referendum stage.

Community involvement should be an on-going process of engagement and refinement rather than a stop-start series of exercises.

Important first steps are to make sure that the proposal to produce a Neighbourhood Plan is known about by as many people as possible and to identify those local partners who can support the plan-making process and help to get local people involved.

Tasks

- Publicise the proposal to produce a Neighbourhood Plan.
- Identify key local partners and stakeholders and develop working arrangements to gain their involvement and support.
- Formulate a programme of community engagement
- Carry out initial community engagement programme and analysis to identify issues and themes.
- Undertake on-going community engagement to support the development of policy and content of plan.
- Provide feedback at all stages.
- Consult on the draft plan.

Publicising the Proposed Neighbourhood Plan

Methods of publicising the intention to produce a plan include:

- press releases to local papers and local radio
- council newspapers
- local authority and other local newsletters
- social media such as Facebook, Linked-in and Twitter
- leaflets and flyers
- posters in local shops and public buildings
- publicity through local partners and their networks

The local planning authority should be able to provide support, especially through its own publications or by placing notices in libraries and other public buildings.
